James Meehan High School has three simple school rules:

- Be respectful
- Be safe and responsible
- Be engaged in learning

We expect you will apply these three rules in every part of your school life.

Our school promotes wellbeing for all.

We focus on five areas:

- Attention and awareness
- Comprehension and coping
- Emotions
- Goals and habits
- Virtues and relationships

Who can help?

At James Meehan there are special teachers and staff who manage different aspects of the school.

Wellbeing coordinators

Support students in all areas of school life to Connect, Succeed and Thrive.

Head Teachers

Work with classroom teachers of each Key Learning Area to:

- Improve the literacy and numeracy of all students.
- Promote wellbeing across the school community.
- Help students be responsible and plan for the future through connections to work and further learning.

Other staff
